The car was involved in a serious accident just outside Bristol, leaving him fighting for survival on life support. When he emerged from his coma, doctors discovered that he was seriously brain damaged, leaving the left side paralysed. Within the blink of an eye James had been transformed from a gregarious, fun-loving little boy into a rag doll. But with a lot of loving support, he began the long and difficult road to recovery. His attitude was inspirational, and for years he threw himself into rehabilitation. As James grew up he began to feel misunderstood and not able to reach the level of normality he so yearned for. He felt that there was no longer any point to his life. When James asked his doctor for help, the reality of his situation suddenly struck. Suicide would be the ultimate failure. This is the story of James' life and how he fought tooth and nail to stay alive. It is both his autobiography and a guide to personal development. Since making the conscious decision not to give up hope, James has gone on to travel the world and teach English abroad. They are working with a terrorist Muslim group, based in both the US and Chechnya, who has gained control of an American Airlines flight headed for Seattle. Enroute to the US, the plane makes a quick landing on a small island just off the coast of North Korea and the bomb is loaded. Some clever subterfuge would have enabled the terrorists to allay suspicions if not for a clandestine CIA operation. Forewarned, the Air Force plans to shoot down the plane, including over 300 passengers, before it reaches the US. A courageous group of individuals on the flight, however, have discovered the plot and must retake control before the plane is destroyed. Meanwhile, back in the US, the FBI is infiltrating the terrorist group behind the plot. In the process, one of their agents, working undercover, is discovered. Will the FBI locate and save him in time?
