business hours for advance auto: Hot Stocks James Ellman, 2020-07-08 The world is warming, our portfolios will have to adapt, and the stocks we own can help shape our future; James Ellman shows how to invest wisely as climate change impacts multiple sectors across the stock market. The costs of global warming and its mitigation will have a major impact on equity market performance over the next two decades. As the climate changes, investors will need to understand which are the best-positioned market sectors and stocks as well as those to avoid. Hot Stocks provides a roadmap detailing how to invest in this new reality. It evaluates the many ways global warming will affect profit flows in the economy:

- Impacts of a warmer climate, rising ocean levels, more frequent extreme storm events, land desertification and ocean acidification.
- Potential for government taxation on greenhouse gas emissions.
- Accelerating switching to renewable power systems that are increasingly cost competitive with those powered by oil fossil fuels.
- Government bans on sales of cars powered by internal combustion engines and the electrification of the terrestrial vehicle fleet.
- Potential for hydrocarbon reserves and equipment becoming impaired or 'stranded assets'.
- Rising demand for major infrastructure projects to protect valuable coastal real estate from inundation.
- Litigation aimed at forcing legacy polluters to pay mitigation costs.

The book drills down on how these changes will depress or support stocks in sectors such as the petroleum industry, automakers, renewable power providers, regional banking, property insurance, heavy equipment manufacturers, Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) and agricultural chemicals. The analysis then pivots away from a US-centric focus to identify those nations around the world whose economies are best positioned to successfully adjust to the impact of rising prevailing temperatures, as well as those likely to suffer the most from the trend.

business hours for advance auto: Specialty Retailers -- Marketing Triumphs and Blunders Ronald D. Michman, Edward M. Mazze, 2001-02-28 Michman and Mazze present five key variables that retailing executives in nine specialty businesses must understand and work with, to gain and sustain competitive advantage in their competitive environments. Innovation, target market segmentation, image development, physical store decor, and human resource management are identified and examined. Authors argue convincingly from research and practical experience that these fundamental considerations are crucial to achieving competitive dominance. With up-to-date analyses and extensive coverage of e-commerce and internet retailing as well, their book is essential for retailing executives. Michman and Mazze find that successful specialty retailers are not all things to all customers, and do not try to be. They are, however, the first to apply new technologies. Authors analyze the development of specialty stores in the U.S. and tie their variables together in an epilogue. Along the way they make clear that by focusing on their five critical variables, we can understand how marketing successes come about and what causes blunders in the nine highly important store categories under their examination here. They point out that not all of their variables need be used concurrently. Some may be more critical than others, and this depends on environmental and competitive conditions. Backing it all up is meticulously developed evidence from their research and personal experience -- all of it presented readably and in a way that practitioners can understand and immediately apply.
