Before diving into creating a business plan, it is essential to understand the home care agency landscape. The home care industry provides various services to individuals who require assistance with daily activities, including elderly care, rehabilitation services, and specialized medical care. The demand for home care services is driven by several factors, including an aging population, a preference for aging in place, and advancements in medical technology that allow for care to be provided in a home setting.

The home care market is characterized by a mix of both private pay and insurance-funded services. home care agency business plan: Brokering Circular Labour Migration Huey Shy Chau, 2020-03-05 This book examines the commercialisation of domestic and care work through private agencies that organise transnational care arrangements by brokering migrant workers. The book focuses on the emergence of private for-profit home care agencies following the 2011 extension of the Free Movement of Workers to Eastern European Countries agreement in Switzerland. The agencies recruit migrant women from these countries and place them in private households for elderly care. This book explores how circular labour migration for these care workers is facilitated. In the form of a mobile ethnography, it traces their journey from Eastern European countries to Switzerland – from when care workers find employment and are recruited by agencies to when they arrive at their designated households. From the agencies' analytical standpoint, the book examines the recruitment and placement practices of the home care agencies and their role in facilitating migration. Brokering Labour Migration offers an understanding of new migration patterns and highlights fundamental changes in migration control with the extension of free movement of workers in Switzerland to lower-wage countries in Eastern Europe. It will be an invaluable resource for academics and scholars of geography, anthropology, sociology, and gender and migration.
