hustle small business quotes: Big Government and Affirmative Action Jonathan Bean, 2021-10-21 David Stockman, Ronald Reagan's budget director, proclaimed the Small Business Administration a billion-dollar waste—a rathole, and set out to abolish the agency. His scathing critique was but the latest attack on an agency better known as the Small Scandal Administration. Loans to criminals, government contracts for minority fronts, the classification of American Motors as a small business, Whitewater, and other scandals—the Small Business Administration has lurched from one embarrassment to another. Despite the scandals and the policy failures, the SBA thrives and small business remains a sacred cow in American politics. Part of this sacredness comes from the agency's longstanding record of pioneering affirmative action. Jonathan Bean reveals that even before the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the SBA promoted African American businesses, encouraged the hiring of minorities, and monitored the employment practices of loan recipients. Under Nixon, the agency expanded racial preferences. During the Reagan administration, politicians wrapped themselves in the mantle of minority enterprise even as they denounced quotas elsewhere. Created by Congress in 1953, the SBA does not conform to traditional interpretations of interest-group democracy. Even though the public—and Congress—favors small enterprise, there has never been a unified group of small business owners requesting the government's help. Indeed, the SBA often has failed to address the real problems of Mom and Pop shop owners, fueling the ongoing debate about the agency's viability.

hustle small business quotes: Just Hustle Every Day Jordan S Alexander, 2020-09-09 What is the secret to success as an entrepreneur? Is it millions of dollars to invest? Is it having the free time to work 14 hours every single day? Or is it a 100% fool-proof business idea? The truth is, if you are missing this one crucial thing, you could have all those advantages plus a field of four-leaf clovers in your backyard and it would not matter. It's not sexy and it's not talked about much in the entrepreneur world, but if you are missing this critical piece of the puzzle, your business will fall apart sooner or later. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 20% of entrepreneurs give up by the first year, and by the fifth year, 50% close their doors and never reopen. Keep in mind this statistic only counts those very few who dare leave their safe old jobs and actually set out on their journey to financial independence and fulfillment. Lack of funds is certainly one important piece of the puzzle, but the missing key piece is the mindset to start something, learn as you go, and do it until it works. Many others don't even take the first step and are content griping every day about their dull jobs and crappy bosses, never changing themselves. Entrepreneurship really isn't an easy role to play. You can't expect to know what to do on your own when no one has shown you the ropes. When you go in blind, you are bound to bash yourself against a few obstacles and end up a bit worse than how you came in. That's why it is critical to learn from the failures and successes of others. You don't have nearly enough time to stumble through all the walls and pitfalls. With Hustle Every Day, you get inside access into 365 of the greatest minds from all walks of life and periods in time. You get one genius quote for each new day. Through the wisdom collected in Hustle Every Day you will discover: The number one limiting belief that is guaranteed to make success impossible no matter how hard you try Why passion and persistence trump talent and experience every time How to rise above self-doubt and shut down the critics How to make more money by doing less work The most overlooked aspect of business that can ensure financial security for years to come Why giving more to your customer makes them spend even more money Proven business strategies that have made normal people multi-millionaires time and time again Why setting unrealistic goals can make your dreams a reality Why you don't have to immediately burn all your bridges to be an entrepreneur The secret to enduring success and fulfillment (hint: it's not money) And so much more... Entrepreneurs don't fail if the results they were hoping for don't happen. They only fail when they stop learning and stop trying. If they shoot once or twice, miss the mark, and give up, they won't ever hit it. So for every shot they miss, they must adjust, then shoot again, and again, and again, until eventually, they hit the bull's eye. Even if you are considering starting your first-ever business but feel blind and helpless, or if you are an eagle-eyed veteran looking to maximize your earning potential, your attitude is what will bring you to new heights or hold you down.
