Overview of Business Programs

SUNY New Paltz offers a variety of business majors that cater to the interests and career aspirations of its students. The primary business degree offered is the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, which serves as a foundational program for students aiming to enter various fields of business. Additionally, students can pursue specialized tracks that align with their career goals, such as marketing, finance, management, and international business.

The Business Administration program at SUNY New Paltz is designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of core business principles including economics, accounting, marketing, and management. The curriculum not only emphasizes theoretical knowledge but also practical application through case studies, team projects, and internships. This holistic approach ensures that graduates are well-prepared to tackle real-world business challenges.

Specializations within Business Majors

At SUNY New Paltz, students have the opportunity to specialize within their business major, allowing them to tailor their education to their interests and career goals. Each specialization provides targeted coursework and experiences that enhance students' understanding of specific areas within the business field.

Marketing

The marketing specialization focuses on the strategies and tactics used to promote products and services. Students learn about market research, consumer behavior, digital marketing, and brand management. This specialization equips students with the skills needed to create effective marketing campaigns and understand the complexities of the modern marketplace.

Finance

The finance specialization prepares students for careers in financial management, investment banking, and corporate finance. Coursework covers topics such as financial analysis, investment strategies, and risk management. Students engage in hands-on projects that help them apply financial principles in real-world contexts.

Management

The management specialization emphasizes leadership, organizational behavior, and strategic planning. This track is ideal for those looking to assume management roles in various industries. Students learn how to motivate teams, manage projects, and drive organizational success through effective leadership practices.

International Business

The international business specialization offers insights into the global marketplace, preparing students for careers that require an understanding of international trade, economics, and cultural differences. Students explore topics such as global marketing strategies, international finance, and cross-cultural management.

Career Opportunities for Business Graduates

suny new paltz business majors: The Knicks of the Nineties Paul Knepper, 2020-09-22 The Knicks of the 1990s competed like champions but fell short of their goal. An eclectic group who took divergent, in many cases fascinating paths to New York, they forged an identity as a rugged, relentless squad. Led by a superstar center Patrick Ewing and two captivating coaches--Pat Riley and Jeff Van Gundy--they played David to the Chicago Bulls' Goliath. Despite not winning a championship, they were embraced as champions by New Yorkers and their rivalries with the Bulls, Indiana Pacers and Miami Heat defined NBA basketball for a decade. Drawing on original interviews with players, coaches and others, this narrative rediscovers the brilliance of the Knicks, Ewing and his colorful supporting cast--Charles Oakley, John Starks, Larry Johnson and Latrell Sprewell--in the glory days of Madison Square Garden.

suny new paltz business majors: The Place You Live In Deanna Klein Shapiro, 2012-07-11 Deanna Shapiro looks back at the Jewish immigrant family that shaped her with honesty, understanding, forgiveness, and admiration. Moving with ease and grace between poetry and prose, she addresses familiar themes of immigrant life, such as uprooting, sacrifice, loyalty and the pull and push of assimilation, through a uniquely personal and gendered lens. Gail Reimer Executive Director Jewish Womens Archive Deanna Shapiros latest book, The Place You Live In: A Multigenerational Immigrant Story, is the perfect blend between prose narrative and poetry. Shapiros stunning skill for poetry complements the story of her grandparents journey from Galicia to the Lower East Side of New York City. The book also tells the tale of the familys life in the Bronx and the Catskill Mountains in the 1940s and 1950s. As a descendant of immigrants, readers can easily identify with both the pathos and humor of Shapiros familys story. Its a book to be read and savored slowly, like a tasty home cooked meal. Sandra Stillman Gartner Co-author of To Life! A Celebration of Vermont Jewish Women In this lovingly written memoir, Deanna Shapiro, recalls the perspective of a quiet child in a large, outspoken family, navigating America in the mid-20th century from Tar Beach in the Bronx to False Porch in the Catskills. The complexities of immigration, ambition, and tradition are played out in prose and poetry, the family portrayed with personality and imagery, revealed by Shapiro within a culture of small comforts. Judith Chalmer Author of Out of Historys Junk Jar Deanna Shapiro did the family research many of us only talk about doing. Sharing her very personal memories and reflections of family members and family dynamics in a wonderful balance of narrative and poetry, Deanna takes us into the world of her immigrant family. It is a story which echoes the experience of the hundreds of thousands of Jewish families who left Eastern Europe for the United States at the turn of the 20th Century. It is the story of family, memory, the desire to fit in and assimilate, stories of personal successes and failures. In her quiet, unassuming voice, Deanna touches on the profound changes to family, religion and personal identity that have occurred over the past century. It is a window on from where we have come. Better or worse than where we are? A question for each of us to consider. Rabbi Ira J. Schiffer Associate Chaplain Charles P. Scott Center for Spiritual & Religious Life Middlebury College
