linda howe akashic records course: The Beginner's Guide To Metaphysics Kimberly A. James, 2025-02-28 The Beginner's Guide to Metaphysics is an introduction into certain types of metaphysical knowledge that has been presented throughout time immemorial. It is by no means all inclusive. Some of the material presented dates back to Atlantis, Mu ("Lemurian") and Ancient Egyptian times. Recent discoveries are now indicating that Atlantis existed well over 13,000 years ago. It is the hope of this author to provide some basic insight into our Earthly perspective of the Universe, for our true understanding has been hidden for thousands of years. It should also be noted that the ultimate goal of this project is to broaden one's perspective and provide opportunities to expand one's consciousness, and not just individually, or even globally, but on a galactic level. The world in which we live is based upon metaphysics. The Greeks considered metaphysics to be one of the branches of philosophy. Merriam-Webster defines metaphysics as "a division of philosophy that is concerned with the fundamental nature of reality and being..." [emphasis added], which also includes the study of ontology, cosmology and epistemology. While physics is based upon our three dimensional existence and concerns the nature of matter and energy, the prefix meta refers to going beyond nature and the origin of reality itself. A few topics discussed in this Beginner's Guide include Chakras, Numerology, Intuition and Reincarnation. By having basic knowledge of each topic contained in this book, the opportunity to hone in on a specific subject that resonates with one's understanding of the universe will become clear. In turn, this will provide the reader the jump start needed to pursue a specific field of interest(s), and gain a greater understanding of the true limitlessness of every human being.

linda howe akashic records course: A Darker Wilderness Eric Sharkey, 2023-02-14 A vibrant collection of personal and lyric essays in conversation with archival objects of Black history and memory. What are the politics of nature? Who owns it, where is it, what role does it play in our lives? Does it need to be tamed? Are we ourselves natural? In A Darker Wilderness, a constellation of luminary writers reflect on the significance of nature in their lived experience and on the role of nature in the lives of Black folks in the United States. Each of these essays engages with a single archival object, whether directly or obliquely, exploring stories spanning hundreds of years and thousands of miles, traveling from roots to space and finding rich Blackness everywhere. Erin Sharkey considers Benjamin Banneker's 1795 almanac, as she follows the passing of seasons in an urban garden in Buffalo. Naima Penniman reflects on a statue of Haitian revolutionary François Makandal, within her own pursuit of environmental justice. Ama Codjoe meditates on rain, hair, protest, and freedom via a photo of a young woman during a civil rights demonstration in Alabama. And so on—with wide-ranging contributions from Carolyn Finney, Ronald Greer II, Alexis Pauline Gumbs, Sean Hill, Michael Kleber-Diggs, Glynn Pogue, Katie Robinson, and Lauret Savoy—unearthing evidence of the ways Black people's relationship to the natural world has persevered through colonialism, slavery, state-sponsored violence, and structurally racist policies like Jim Crow and redlining. A scrapbook, a family chest, a quilt—and an astounding work of historical engagement and literary accomplishment—A Darker Wilderness is a collection brimming with abundance and insight.
