Origins and Historical Background

The roots of zionist conspiracy theories can be traced back to the late 19th and early 20th centuries, coinciding with the rise of modern Zionism as a political movement advocating for the establishment of a Jewish homeland. Early conspiracy narratives emerged in Europe, often linked to broader anti-Semitic ideologies that falsely accused Jews of secret control over governments and economies. One of the most infamous sources feeding these ideas was the fabricated document known as "The Protocols of the Elders of Zion," which purported to reveal a Jewish plan for global domination.
