The Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) is a standardized test that evaluates the academic readiness of students aspiring to enter nursing school. The TEAS assesses four critical areas: Reading, Mathematics, Science, and English Language Usage. Each section tests skills that are fundamental to nursing education and practice, making the TEAS a vital component for potential nursing students. These resources provide accessibility and flexibility, allowing students to study at their own pace while preparing effectively for the exam.

Structure of the TEAS Exam

Understanding the structure of the TEAS exam is crucial for effective preparation. The TEAS consists of 170 questions, which are divided into four sections.

Overview of the Four Sections

- Reading: This section includes 53 questions that evaluate comprehension, analysis, and interpretation of various texts, including passages and articles.
- Mathematics: Comprising 36 questions, this section assesses mathematical reasoning, including basic arithmetic, algebra, and measurement.

- English Language Usage: This section has 28 questions focused on grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, and vocabulary.

The total testing time for the TEAS is approximately 209 minutes, and students can take the test in a single sitting or split it into multiple sessions.
